SPECI-2 ZHENT'S ANCIENT SHADOWS

SPEC03 - A Promise Fulfilled

You have fulfilled the promise that you made to Yazeth Cobb, follower of Amaunator, Keeper of the Yellow Sun. Although many of the members of your expedition did not survive the battles within the southern ruins of Zhentil Keep, in the end, the Light prevailed, and a powerful artifact of Shadow was unmade. This story object represents the completion of the Major Quest that began with the story object SPEC02 A Promise to Return; you may now void that story object.

The clerisy of Amaunator will not soon forget the great service you have rendered on their behalf. You have been given a gold pin in the shape of a sunburst. During any adventure set in a city containing a temple of Amaunator (DM's judgment), you may show this pin to the clerics, who will permit you to take refuge in the temple, or provide other assistance, within reason. Like any privilege, if you try to abuse it, the church will withdraw its favor from you.

SPEC04 - Shar's Displeasure

For destroying an artifact sacred to her, you have earned the displeasure of the evil goddess Shar. You are not yet powerful enough to truly merit her attention, but the Mistress of the Night has a long memory. Considering that she is one of the few deities to have been present at the creation of the world, Shar may safely be said to take the long view of things. You may be certain that someday, the agents of her revenge will finally emerge from the deepest shadows in which they lurk.

The relic's destruction unleashed powerful energies that would have been part of the Shadow Weave in the days before the Spellplague. One can only speculate what sort of mark or other effect this power might have on you now. In future adventures involving Netherese agents or other worshippers of Shar, you are likely to be singled out for special attention. This story object may have an important role to play in future adventures dealing with the fight against the Shadovar.
